Workforce Edge Advising Support

Brandi Banks:

My day consists of anywhere from helping somebody reset their password, to helping somebody find their passion.

We help people navigate their different in-network schools and figuring out what they would like to be when they grow up, essentially.

Then, you know, we kind of take the scary out of going back to school and education.

We are customer-focused first. We allow our employees to call us, chat us, email us, text us.

We offer a service, but we also offer people who are passionate about education.
